Diplomatic victory (Civ5) | Civilization Wiki | Fandom

This might actually be the easiest of the victory conditions to achieve in Civilization V. What was once a virtually impossible task is now fairly straightforward thanks to the inclusion of City States. In order to get a diplomatic victory you need to build the United Nations and then win the world vote for a leader.

Main article: Diplomatic victory (Civ5)

Diplomatic victory is achieved by winning a vote in the United Nations. To win the vote, you must have the majority vote, and in order to gather more votes, players can become allies with City-States, or return captured cities to defeated AI players.

Greece -1- Civilization V: Diplomacy Victory

A team wins a Diplomatic Victory when any one of its players have enough victory points to win the game — teams do not combine victory points. They can, of course, opt to all vote for a single member of the group to win. That's it for our Civ 6 Diplomacy guide! Have questions about other new Gathering Storm features?

Carthaginian uniques in Civilization V: Brave New World. Regardless of her real-world historicity, Dido is certainly not legend in Civ V, as she debuted as the leader of Carthage in the Gods & Kings expansion. Carthage has military, economic, and naval uniques that make it a moderately well-rounded civilization that has a bias towards early-game militaristic strategies.
