Every good call sheet should have a section for your opening script. If you use arm bands to signal in plays, every play needs to have the # of the play call next to the play. You also need to have the exact full play that you called on your practice script listed on the call sheet otherwise again you are calling plays you haven't practiced.

The method works by going right down the list of two play calls that the coaches have put together. If on first down the offense gets a first down, then the next first down on the list is called. If the two plays are run and its third down, then the play caller goes to his call sheet for the third down call for that situation.
